

What is this for?

Reintroducing Wildflowers to Mt Majura

The Friends of Mt Majura aim to reintroduce herbaceous wildflowers or forbs to the grassy woodlands of Mt Majura.

This fenced plot has been deep-soil ripped and planted with a range of native forbs including rare, endangered and native food species.

Once established the plants will act as a 'Noah's Arc' of species or a 'Seeding Node' to re-populate the surrounding area via natural seed dispersal.

Please do not enter the fenced area; the young delicate plants are easily overlooked and trampled.

For more information: <https://majura.org>

